THAT "TERRIBLE REALITY."

The Milwaukee Journal sticks to the original text, that the State Treasury is bankrupt, and that a special tax will be necessary. Doubtless this is so. The Journal's latest discovery is the fact that the National Guard now in training are without funds to defray expenses. These poor guards are almost wholly made up of the brain, bone and sinew of Wisconsin, and it is very humiliating to discover a shortage in the payment of their dues. The men who welcome special taxes are the few prosperous fellows who have axes to grind. Other citizens dread them.—Recorder.

The Gazette, several days ago, exploded the charge that the Wisconsin national guard were deprived of their pay; and their comes from Madison some additional facts regarding this matter which the democratic journals should publish that justice might be done General Burdard.

These facts are contained in a dispatch from Madison, dated Saturday, and are as follows:—

Adjutant General Burdard returned from the first regiment encampment at Camp Douglas this morning and had seen nothing of the statement made by Milwaukee and Chicago papers and was inclined to care less. The reason that the militia had not been paid off sooner, Gen. Burdard said, was because the law required the rolls to be in complete condition before any accounts could be allowed. In many instances the rolls were not correct, owing to negligence of company officers, and all these cases had to be corrected before the pay-roll could be made out. Where there was an oversight or mistake in the enrollment of a single man, it delayed the entire pay-roll until the matter was corrected. The inconvenience and delay that a few mistakes of this kind would entail is readily seen, and it is a wonder that the adjutant general and his immediate subordinates are powerless under the law.

It is too bad to spoil a democratic sensational story, but once in a while it has to be done for truth's sake. Now that the state treasury is not depleted and the state is not bankrupt, and the Wisconsin national guard will get their money when their pay-rolls are correctly made, the sensational democratic papers will suffer a severe blow. But then, this is with all of them that try to build a falsehood.

A STRANGE MURDER.

One of the most surprising deeds that a sane man—not a villain—could commit, was the murder of under-sheriff Neal Marshall and Dr. Frank E. Thurbur, by Charles T. Wright, at Otter Creek, Michigan. The telegraph brings the news that "Wright had not paid the taxes on his mill property at Aral Lake township for several years, and had a suit with the township in regard to it about three weeks ago. The sheriff attached a large lot of logs. Wright tried to replevin them, but could not get the proper bonds and his mill lay idle for want of logs to cut. It is thought that Wright with a force of men attempted to gain possession, and in the melee Supervisor Thurbur was killed first and Marshall soon after."

Wright formerly lived at Racine, and is president of the Otter Creek lumber company. He has been a prominent business man, but it seems that he has been quarrelsome and therefore frequently getting into trouble. A Racine dispatch says that he had been arrested several times in that city for personal assaults, and at one time he quarreled with "Nels Johnson, a dealer in wood and coal, over the payment of a debt. He assailed Johnson with a knife, cutting him about the face. His arrest followed, and when the account of the cutting appeared in a local paper, Wright secured his release and threatened the life of the reporter who wrote the account. At another time Wright assaulted his uncle, Martin Knowles, who is an old man. Again the reporter recorded the event. Wright visited the newspaper office and the reporter sought refuge in flight."

So it appears that Wright comes near being a professional bully, and that he was sustaining his Racine reputation when he shot the Michigan officers.

There is one thing in the Pennsylvania republican platform that our democratic friends don't like:

We cordially endorse the administration of President Benjamin Harrison, because it devotes itself to the work of broad and intelligent administration by competent and trustworthy officials, and makes its rule of inflexible duty the faithful observance, not the hypocritical evasion, of the public statutes.

There is nothing bad about that plank, but some low or other the closing part of the sentence revises some memories that are not altogether pleasant to the democratic and muzzup press. They have a right to stir up when reference is made to the "hypocritical evasion of the public statutes," by the late democratic administration.

Western lumbermen, in view of the rapidly approaching destruction of the remaining great forests of the west, are beginning to inspect timber lands in the south with the thought of purchasing them. The present week two leading western lumbermen have bought 20,000 acres of forest land on the Santee river in South Carolina. One Wisconsin firm has purchased some 47,000 acres of timber land in the south, and are assured that it will yield a greater profit than any pine land that can be bought in Wisconsin or Michigan.

What an expansion of the electric light and motor business there has been since the Centennial Exhibition of 1876, when the only exhibits of electrical apparatus were two dynamos and some lights run by clockwork! Now there is $510,000,000 invested as capital in the electric light business, there are 237,017 arc lights and 2,704,708 incandescent lights, and there are 109 electrical railways. Moreover, an electrical motor for the carriage of parcels has been invented which it is said will travel at the rate of 180 miles an hour.

What a pity it is that the federal government can't afford to pay its servants decent salaries the year round. Another cut-down in the pay of the force at the custom house is on account of the short appropriation. For a government that doesn't know what to do with its surplus, this looks shabby.—Boston Herald.

The Herald will not, or ought not, lose sight of the fact that this "shabby" piece of work was performed by the democratic congress which the Herald aided to elect. To be sure, the Herald professes to be independent, but its independence always leaned on the democratic side of the fence. There never was a more shabby piece of work than the professed "economy" of the democratic congress.

It is rumored that the Russian mission will be filled after President Harrison's return to Washington from Bar Harbor. Senator Hawley, of Connecticut, is the only name mentioned in connection with the position. But Senator Hawley should not leave the senate. There are not many Hawleys in Connecticut, in fact there is only one, while the nutmeg state has half a dozen men that might do well in Russia.

The Journal will keep close watch and inform creditors when it is safe to go to Madison for their money.—Milwaukee Journal.

The Journal is real good toward the public to keep such vigilance over the state treasury. But, by the way, hasn't the Journal any sort of terror for the fate of Ananias?

The New York Mail and Express: "We bow to Oshkosh. It seems to be the one town in these United States that is not fighting for the World's Fair." Oshkosh is very peculiarly situated. It has Gabriel Bonch, and doesn't need the fair.

The Chicago papers are anxious to see Dr. Brown Secord's elixir of life tried on St. Louis. Dr. Brown-Secord does not pretend that his elixir will raise the dead, and therefore it will not be a fair test to take St. Louis.

It is a rather queer condition the democratic journals are in when nothing but an empty state treasury will give them comfort.

Hale and Hearty in Old Age.

What is more beautiful than an ancient tree clothed with the ample robe of verdure. Apt is the comparison between such a growth and an old man or woman infused with health and vigor. The vine quoniam is the indispensable condition of vigorous youth, robust manhood and a virile old age, is sound digestion. Without this life is shorn of the hearty zest that should attend it. No more beneficent and agreeable contributor to the attainment of a hale old age, and efficient means of counteracting the infirmities that too often attend life's decline, can be found than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. A dyspeptic symptom, a tendency to kidney complaint, nervous incertitude and rheumatic trouble and overwork are nullified by it, and it affords efficient protection to all subjected to malarial influences. Give it a thorough trial.

KALAKAUA WAS MAD.

His Majesty Refused to Receive the

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 12.—Advices from Honolulu state that when Hon. W. H. Severance arrived in that city to assume his office as United States consul-general, he was met by a group of his friends and an interview and refused to accept him as consul-general.

The reasons given by his majesty for his action are that Mr. Severance was dismissed from office as the Hawaiian consul in San Francisco for cause.

His majesty feels that Severance's appointment marks a lack of courtesy on the part of the United States officials.

Behring Sea Troubles. VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 12.—The collectors of customs here have been instructed to look out for every possible information regarding the Behring sea trouble and also an account of previous seizures, together with every possible detail regarding the seal industry since its beginning. Affidavits of the masters of the schooner Triumph and Black Diamond have been taken detailing the exact manner of their seizure. It is believed that the Imperial authorities are at last going to take a terminating stand and thoroughly settle the vexed question.

H. R. Boycroft, superintendent of the provincial police, has been absent for several weeks, and it is now discovered that he has left the province, and is behind considerably in his accounts.

Shall Women be Allowed to Vote. The question of female suffrage has agitated the tongues and pens of reformers for many years, and good arguments have been adduced for and against it. Many of the softer sex could vote intelligently, and many would vote as their husbands did, and give no thought to the merits of a political issue. They would vote for Mr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for they know it is a boon to their sex. It is unequalled for the cure of leucorrhoea, abnormal discharges, morning sickness, and the countless ailments to which women are subject. It is the only remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturer, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be returned. See guarantee on wrapper around bottle.

TODD'S. "BURTON AND INDIA PALE ALES" are acknowledged by judges to be superior to the Imported English Ales. They have the virtue of being strictly pure, of not being salted and hops, and of the choicest quality, enters into their composition. Consequently all the nutritive tonic and restorative properties those ingredients are known to possess are found judiciously blended in these brands of ale.—Brewery east end Milwaukee street bridge.

MURDERED TWO MEN.

BLOODY DEED OF A RACINE MAN IN MICHIGAN.

The Criminal in Custody and Narrowly Escapes Lynching—Incendiaries in Danbury, Conn.—Various Crimes.

FRANKFORT, Mich., Aug. 12.—The steamer Dewar returned from Otter creek this morning, having on board Sheriff Case and a posse, also C. T. Wright, who killed Officers Marshall and Thurbur last night. The body of Deputy Sheriff Marshall, which is now lying at Watson's undertaking rooms, is being prepared for burial.

The trouble which culminated so tragically Saturday originated years ago in the refusal of Wright, as president of the Otter Creek Lumber company, to pay taxes on his mill property, which is located in Aral township. The town has never questioned its right to the taxes, but Wright's steady refusal to pay them and his influence over the rather rough men in his employ made collection a very difficult task. Three weeks ago the sheriff seized a number of logs belonging to the Otter Creek company, and Charles T. Wright made several determined efforts to regain possession of the stock, but failed, owing to his inability to furnish what the authorities deemed a good and sufficient indemnity bond. In consequence of this seizure, the mill has been idle for some time. Wright put in an appearance at the mill with a force of men Saturday and swore that he would have possession of the logs. Under Sheriff Marshall and Supervisor Thurbur, accompanied by a posse, were guarding the property in the interests of the township, and Marshall tried to dislodge Wright from doing anything hasty. Wright would not listen to reason, and ordered his men to release the logs and to shoot the first man who interfered. Marshall and Thurbur drew their revolvers and in the name of the State called on the mob to disperse and not to molest in any way the property at issue. Wright's men fell back. Whereupon Wright himself, white with rage, made a move to charge the logs and the under sheriff charged his weapon into the air. The harmless action was answered by Wright, who shot to kill, and at the first report Thurbur fell shot through the brain. Marshall called upon his men to arrest the murderer and uphold the law. A moment later he too, fell, mortally wounded. But the mill hands, who had lent Wright some encouragement in their presence, saw the magnitude of the crime even before its enraged perpetrator, and fell back, leaving him alone. Wright walked away, cursing his Martin rifle, and disappeared in the timber back of the mill, his friends joining him and planning at once for his escape.

The news of the murder and the prominence of all parties concerned, spread like wildfire over the country. The sheriff on arriving at the scene of the tragedy assembled over 200 brawny settlers with a fixed determination to hang the murderer. The crowd learned that the Indian knew Wright's hiding place, he was asked to reveal it, but on getting no answer the heading line of the propeller Dewar was placed around his neck and he was hung up to a pine tree until nearly strangled, and let down to get his story. He at last confessed that Wright was hiding on the north bluffs and had made arrangements with his hired men to wait the departure of the lumber barge Seymour; then to meet him at the sand bluffs with a skiff and place him on board. The book-keeper, Fred Croset, who testified, said he confessed all he knew of the crime, during the midst of which Wright suddenly appeared at the edge of the woods and volunteered to surrender to the sheriff, and at the same time, claiming protection. He was taken on board the steamer, and is now lodged at Frankfort jail, with armed guards on watch to prevent any attempted violence.

BOUND TO BURN DANBURY.

Nine Incendiary Fires Within One Week in the Connecticut Town. DANBURY, Conn., Aug. 12.—Danbury is under great excitement over a continuance of incendiary fires, three being kindled this morning, destroying or damaging ten buildings and resulting in the loss of one life. The Danbury house, next to the fire department headquarters, was saturated with oil and fired while forty people were in the building, either in the bar room or asleep up-stairs. Soon afterward a large stable in the rear of the Central hotel, on Water street, was burned. Two men were seen running away before the flames were discovered. Eight buildings were destroyed, causing considerable loss. At daylight the body of a man was found burned to a crisp in the rear of the stable. It is supposed to be Barney Van Wisa, a hostler. At 4 a. m. Sunday morning the family of William Dugan, of South street, was nearly suffocated. Some one entered the house by a window, cut a hole in the wall, filled it with oil and fired the building, afterward repeating the attempt twice. Four arrests have been made. Nine similar fires have occurred during the past week.

EMULATING THE WHITE CAPS.

Brutal Attack on a Michigan Man and His Wife by a Mob. WHITEHALL, Mich., Aug. 12.—Louis Kluntz and wife, of Duck Lake, five miles south of here on the lake shore, were nearly beaten to death by eight or ten men who came up from Muskegon on the tug Col. Ferry. Trouble had been brewed among them on account of some logs passing a dam. Kluntz is unconscious. His wife had her nose broken and her face pounded to almost a jelly.

Caught Him in the Act.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Captain Stewart, Chief Postoffice Inspector, arrested John Davidson, night watch engineer of Government Building, last night on a charge of robbing the mails. For some time past complaints have been received that packages containing jewelry and valuable mail matter have been stolen from the mails and Capt. Stewart took the matter in hand. He soon satisfied himself that the robberies took place in the carriers' room, and had reason to suspect. Last night, just before 11 o'clock, he detected Davidson in the act of stealing a package and at once put him under arrest.

Shot His Wife and Mother-in-Law.

EL DORADO, Kan., Aug. 12.—Robert Snyder, a saloon-keeper of this place, shot his wife and mother-in-law early this morning. Snyder is an ex-convict, having served a term in the penitentiary for bank robbery. Of late he has been living away from his family. He broke into the house where his wife and her mother were living and shot the former in the breast and the latter through the stomach. His mother-in-law can not live. Mrs. Snyder will probably recover.

Pleased With the Emperor and Princes.

BERLIN, Aug. 12.—The German and Austrian journals are highly delighted with the spirit of the Emperor and the Prince of Wales at the dinner given in London Wednesday by the Prince. The National Gazette of this city goes so far as to predict an alliance between England and Germany.

A FRANTIC LOVER'S DEED.

He Kills His Former Sweetheart and Blows His Own Brains Out. SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 12.—John Henning shot and killed Mrs. John Shells in her husband's store yesterday and then blew his brains out. Henning and Shells were New Yorkers. Their parlors had been neighbors for twenty years. Three years ago the woman, whose maiden name was Cora Raymond, came west. Henning followed her. They loved each other, but were constantly quarreling. In the spring of this year they had a slight quarrel, standing and drifted apart and Henning refused to recognize Cora. By way of independence the woman courted the attention of Shells and married him. Some time afterward Henning called upon Mrs. Shells and told her he could not live without her. She treated him coldly and requested him to call again. He left unmolested until last night, when, mad with liquor, he ended their two lives.

Tried to Kill an Editor.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 12.—John Proctor, who murdered Wade Purcell at Mount Vernon, Ky., last Monday, attempted to kill Editor W. H. Cross of the Mountain Signal yesterday. Cross was on his way to the depot when Proctor, who was supposed to be under guard, met him and, thrusting a pistol before his face, ordered him to get down on his knees. Cross ran away and Proctor fired a shot, but missed his mark. The would-be murderer was at once placed in jail. The reason for the assault was that Cross had denounced him in their night clothes.

Tried to Burn an Entire Family.

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 12.—The family of T. J. Allen of Knott County, Monroe county, narrowly escaped being burned alive by some unknown enemy Friday night. The doorways were blocked up by rocks, and when the fire broke out the porch and other woodwork, and the match was applied while the family was asleep. The entire lower story was ablaze before they awoke and all had to jump from the window clothes.

Brutal Death of Three Italians.

CROSBRIA, Pa., Aug. 12.—Emma Spacht, 15 years old, was attacked last night by three Italians while on an errand, and brutally choked and gagged. One of her assailants cut off her hair. The miscreants were discovered and a crowd of fifty men pursued them for a mile, but they escaped.

FISHING FOR PEARLS.

Sugar River, in Wisconsin, Lined with Seekers After the Clam. MADISON, Wis., Aug. 12.—The pearl-finding excitement has at last reached our abatement. Along Sugar River and at Belleville, Albany, Brodhead, and other places wild excitement prevails. The shallow stream was practically lined for 100 miles Sunday, not only with anglers, but the porch and other woodwork, and the match was applied while the family was asleep. The entire lower story was ablaze before they awoke and all had to jump from the window clothes.

THE CASUALTY RECORD.A COUPLE OF SERIOUS RAIL-WAY ACCIDENTS.Destructive Blaze in a Hammond Packing-House—Forest Fires in Oregon.
Various Other Accidents.CHARLOTTE, N. Y., Aug. 12.—A collision occurred near Forest Lawn on the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg railroad this morning. The freight train, bound west, ran into the Rochester train, telescoping four cars and killing one person and badly injuring eight others. The victims are: KILLER, aged 23 years, of St.
Johns, Mich.
Injured:
Mr. PERHUS, hurt internally.
ANDREW TRAPP, engineer of steamer
Hazelton of Oswego, badly injured internally and not expected to live.
Mrs. LEWIS, widow of Gratwick, N. Y., right leg broken.
Mr. BROWN of Sherman, N. Y., one leg cut off and foot and toes of other leg severed.
Two unknown persons were also injured.MET DEATH IN A COLLISION.An Express Messenger Killed and Two Men Injured Near Topeka.TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 12.—The Caldwell express on the Rock Island road collided with a freight train last evening on a curve about a mile west of this city. The freight train, carrying express cars of the passenger train, many freight cars and both engines were wrecked. Express Messenger Courtier was crushed to death. Fireman Pat Donovan was fatally injured, and Lew Ball, a brakeman, had one leg cut off and was otherwise injured. He may recover.
None of the passengers were injured. The loss will amount to about $40,000.FIRE AT HAMMOND, IND.Flames in the Packing-House of George W. Hammond & Co.HAMMOND, Ind., Aug. 12.—At 4 o'clock Saturday morning the large packing house of George W. Hammond & Co. was destroyed by fire. The blaze was caused by the careless striking of a match near a barrel of benzine in the oil house. Within two hours the entire establishment with the exception of the new killing department, was burned to the ground. The killing and dressing departments, consisting of two large two-story buildings, were saved by the timely efforts of the Hammond and Chicago fire departments. The fire throws 700 men out of employment.
The loss is $300,000. It will take three months to repair the damage.Forest Fires in Oregon.PORTLAND, Oregon, Aug. 12.—A forest fire of considerable dimensions is raging in Washington county, only about fifteen miles from this city. People living near Cedar Mills are hastening into the open plains. The road from this city to that place is lined with flames and no longer passable. Several farmhouses and barns have been burned, with their contents, and the total loss will be heavy. The air for miles around is full of smoke, and cattle and burning brands are falling in showers. A dense pall of smoke also hangs over Portland. There has been no rain for two months, and the whole country is dry as tinder. Small fires are reported in all directions and much greater damage is feared.A Georgia Orphan Asylum Burned.AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 12.—The Augusta Orphan asylum, a magnificent five-story building, was almost entirely destroyed by fire to-day. The fire department fought nearly a day, but was handicapped by a lack of water. The structure cost over $100,000, and was insured for $60,000. All the children were got out safely. Two firemen were injured by falling timbers.Fatal Leap From a Train.SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Pa., Aug. 12.—H.
Webb of Wilkesbarre, aged 34, and Herman Newmeyer of the same place, aged 15, jumped from a Lehigh Valley train at Cham Dam early this morning. Webb was instantly killed and Newmeyer was fatally hurt.Earthquake Shock in New York.ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Reports from the Boeoe house at Schenectady lake, Lake Kene Valley, North Creek and Watertown, N. Y., say that a heavy earthquake shock was felt at those points at 8:42 this morning.Great Fire at Chattanooga.CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 12.—The round house of the Chattanooga, Rome & Columbus railroad company burned this morning with three locomotives. The loss is estimated at $100,000.Gored to Death by an Angry Bull.WINONA, Minn., Aug. 12.—George Zack, a well-known milkman, aged 35 years, was gored to death by an angry bull on his farm in this county yesterday afternoon.THE SITUATION DESPERATE.Another Outbreak Among the Huns Feared in the Lake Regions.GREENSBORO, Pa., Aug. 12.—Another outbreak is expected to occur at the Hecla copper mine. The Huns are said to have Mammoth held a secret meeting last night and decided to renew the fight to-day and prevent the men at Hecla, United, and other works in this locality from going to work. Messengers were sent here last evening to notify the sheriff of the intention and a posse was at once organized, consisting of forty men with Winchester repeating rifles, and sent to the Hecla works. Assistant Superintendent Rowe came here last night. He says the Huns are in a terrible state of excitement, and it may be that the outbreak will occur sooner than expected.Engineer Green, who was beaten by the*desperate mob Saturday, is in a precarious*condition and will probably die. Another*of the injured, who had a rusty pick sunk*into his shoulder, will also die.*Some of the workmen are afraid to go*near the works and have not been seen*since the raid yesterday. The Huns say*they will not allow work to be done at*Hecla until the advance is given them at*Mammoth. There are not more than half*a dozen Americans in the mob.*Will Increase the Wages.LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 12.—The Penn Iron Works, of this city, posted a notice
Saturday of the resumption of operations on Aug. 19, at $3.55 per ton for puddlers.
Five months ago $2.99 was the strike when the wages were reduced to $1.50 per ton and since that time the mill has been idle.Nipise and Alert Nearing Home.

THE BULLETS DID FLY.

A Little Skirmish in Henry Miller's Saloon Last Night.

MILLER SHOTS POWERS.

Residents of Afton Considerably Excited. Powers is Brought to this City.

The usually quiet life village of Afton was considerably stirred up last night. The reports of a revolver where heard in the saloon of Henry Miller early in the evening, and excitement ran high for an hour or two.

It appears that John Power, who is employed on the section, entered the saloon accompanied by a friend John Moore, and asked Henry Miller, proprietor for something to eat for his friend. From the reports it seems that there is an old grudge existing between Miller and Powers, who had some sort of a controversy at Beloit some time since, when Miller was in the employ of John Kline of that city. Miller had not forgotten this. He told Powers he hadn't got any time for him, whereupon Powers rushed towards him and struck him a severe blow on the nose with his fist.

"I'll fix you," said Miller, who proceeded behind the bar and procured a .32 calibre revolver which he presented at Powers.

"Hold on there; put that down," said Powers. But Miller didn't hold on. He fired five shots at Powers in less time than it takes to tell it, and when he had unloaded the gun, things were decidedly blue in that vicinity. Everybody had deserted the ranch, and were out on the wild prairie.

"My God, I am a dead man," said Powers as he fell to the floor.

During the shooting Powers went through all the motions one does who is trying to hold his own in a nest of bumble bees. The bullets whizzed by him first on this side then on that until the fellow lost all track of the count and came near being scared to death. The frightened neighbors ran in, somebody hitched up a team and brought Powers to the city going to the residence of Dr. Palmer, in the first ward.

"Is he bleeding much?" asked the doctor.

"I guess no," said one of the attendants, "but he's nearly a dead man."

The doctor told them to take him to his office where it was found that one of the balls struck a silver dollar in the victim's pocket, glancing around the thigh making a very slight wound hardly breaking through the skin.

Powers is out on the street this morning and walks rather lame. He threatens to have Miller arrested but up to the hour of going to press he has not entered a complaint.

—Fred R. Ormsby left on the morning train for St. Louis, Mo. He has secured a position with a wholesale hardware company of that city.

—City Treasurer Michael Murphy is spending the day in Broadhead. To-morrow morning he may be found at his desk ready to receipt for the taxes.

—The indications are that the Caledonian picnic will be largely attended.

—Many from all parts of the state have declared their intention to be present.

—Rev. S. P. Wilder and family are expected to return home during the week.

—Mr. Wilder will occupy his pulpit at the Congregational church next Sunday morning.

—Mrs. Walcott Lay and daughter, of Washington, D. C., who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Metcalf, went to Oconomowoc, Wis., this morning.

—Miss Matthe Kirkpatrick, of Chicago, is in the city the guest of Miss Alice Hemmings, fourth ward. Miss Kirkpatrick is a sister of Mrs. Wm. Meadows, Center avenue.

—Mrs. Egbert Marks and daughter, Nellie, who have been the guests of Mrs. R. and Mrs. O. H. Brand, returned to their home in Menominee, Wis., Saturday evening.

—The new side wheel built by some third ward aspirants, came up the river this morning manned by the inventors. It was far a head of Watt's first attempt as an experiment.

—Secretary E. B. Heimstrom, of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical Association, went to Portage this morning to attend the annual meeting which convenes in that city this week.

—Clinton Childs, quartermaster of the Sargent Post G. A. R., left this morning for Milwaukee to make arrangements for shipping equipment from this city to the encampment.

—Rock Legion, Select Knights, Ancient Order of United Workmen, assemble in regular semi-monthly meeting this evening—lodge room in the Smith block, East Milwaukee street.

—O. E. Gray, Jr., and T. W. Gray, of Beloit, spent Sunday with friends in this city. They took the morning train for Whitewater where they are engaged in constructing a waterworks plant.

—The singing at the Congregational church yesterday morning was exceptionally fine. The violin solo by Harry Knapp was heartily appreciated. Mr. Knapp has few equals as a musician.

—Prof. William B. Chamberlin and family, who have been spending a few weeks the guests of Mrs. S. C. Little, of the theatre institution for the blind, left today for their home at Oberlin, Ohio.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moulter left the city about eight o'clock this morning for an overland trip to Chicago.

—They will remain in that city about one week the guests of relatives and friends.

—The excitement at Albany does not abate. A man by the name of Kelley found the first pearl for which it is said he refused $100. This gave the business an impetus from which it may not recover in some time.

—Rev. George Wildermuth, of Edgerton, Rev. F. Dege, of Chicago, Rev. O. Hauser, of Clinton, and Prof. John Zink, of this city, left on the morning train for Koshkonong for a few days visiting at the lake.

—Harrison & Morton Benevolent Association will hold a lawn social at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Cleland, 54 Lincoln street, on Tuesday evening. Republicans should turn out en masse. A good time is insured.

—All under fourteen years of age will be conveyed on the steamer (Billie Burr) to and from the Modern Woodman's picnic at Crystal Springs next Wednesday free of charge. For all those over that age the fare for the round trip will be 25 cents.

—Mr. W. G. Wheelock left for New York this morning. His sons will accompany him and together they will purchase for their five crockery stores, in Janesville, Rockford, South Bend, and two in Peoria, one wholesale and one retail.

—Dr. G. G. Chittenden, who was called out of the city on business recently, has extended his trip considerably. He joined an excursion at Milwaukee which goes by the lakes as far as Superior and return. The doctor is expected home in a day or two.

—Patrick Kavanagh, of W. H. Ashcraft & Co's, while at Albany yesterday visited the "pearl hatcheries," and brought home some valuable specimens. Pat says the river above and below the dam is swarmed with people, and that garden rakes are at a premium.

—The ladies of the Rectory Society are requested to attend a business meeting of importance at the home of Minnie Jones, on Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 13th, at three o'clock sharp. Will the members please make an effort to be present as there are but few in the city at best.

—St. Patrick's A. & B. society have decided to hold their annual picnic at Crystal Springs on Thursday, August 22d. This will be one of the best picnics of the year. Amusements and sports of various kinds will be provided and Smith & Anderson's orchestra have been engaged to furnish music for dancing both afternoon and evening.

—The N. O. W. club will give the last dance of the series at Crystal Springs to-morrow evening. Smith & Anderson's orchestra have been engaged to furnish the music. The social dances given by this club are always very successful, and the participants always have the best of times.

The boat will leave the dock in the city at 7:30 and 8:30 o'clock on Tuesday evening.

—A quiet wedding took place at the parsonage of the First M. E. church last evening. The contracting parties were Mr. Thomas R. Elwood, of Cookeville, Wis., to Miss Mabel Taylor, of Dunkirk, Wis. The ceremony was performed at 5:30 o'clock by Rev. M. Evans. The parties came overland and departed for their home last evening. The groom is a prosperous farmer at Cookeville.

—The funeral services of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Detwiler, were held at the residence 304 Cherry street, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. M. Albrecht officiating. At the conclusion of the services at the house the remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment. The bereaved parents have the heartfelt sympathy of their friends in this community.

—Mr. Chas. Keseguis, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Keseguis, of this city, who is now a superintendent of one of the divisions of the Union Pacific railroad, is taking a vacation with his family, traveling through the great west in his own private car. His sister, Miss Jessie Keseguis, accompanies her brother and will return home in time to take her place as teacher in the city schools at the beginning of the fall term.

—George Stratton, of Milwaukee, has entered into partnership in the wall paper, paper hanging, and decorating business with Mr. A. T. Wilkins, North Main street, next door to the Gazette office. Mr. Stratton is one of the best paper hangers and decorators in the state. This firm has all the facilities for doing artistic work on short notice. Their stock of wall paper, picture frames and artists' materials is complete in every detail. The Gazette bespeaks for the new firm of Wilkins & Stratton the best of success.

—A little excitement in the first ward yesterday. A German with his wife and four children were driving by David K. Jeffries' lumber yard and on turning the corner the vehicle by some unknown manner upset spilling the whole load promiscuously on the ground. The way the German dialect was declaimed for the space of a few minutes was a caution to all present. One little boy had his arm badly bruised but with the exception of this a general shaking up was all that resulted from the catastrophe.

—Keep in mind the Modern Woodman's annual picnic, which will be held on Wednesday of this week. The order from the southern part of the state will be well represented. Speakers of note will be present and address the assembly. The steamer Billie Burr will leave the city for Crystal Springs at 9 o'clock a. m. and every hour thereafter. Amusements have been prepared for the entire day. Tackwood's orchestra will furnish music for dancing in the evening. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance from the city.

—Some piano tuner who evidently had more regard for a few dollars and cents than for his reputation, circulated the report that William Raynor, the piano tuner, of Janesville, was dead and had such a notice printed in several papers. He then took copies of these papers, to a few towns ahead of him on his trip in the northern part of the state showing these notices to the friends of Mr. Raynor, who of course believed them to be correct, thus taking from him in some cities his entire patronage. Mr. Raynor returned to this city a day or two ago as lively as ever with a defiant look in his eye. If he ever gets within range of the miscreant who manufactured these reports it may go hard with him.

—Mr. T. O. Purdy, formerly of this city, but at present a resident of Salem, Ohio, has been tendered and accepted a position on the eleventh census. Mr. Purdy did efficient work on the tenth census, doing the work relating to steamboat navigation and his services are again sought in the same line. Since leaving Janesville Mr. Purdy has been connected with the New York Tribune and Cleveland Herald, but is at present engaged in manufacturing. Mrs. Purdy is a sister of Mrs. William Smith, of this city. The many friends of Mr. Purdy in this city will be glad to hear that he is prospering. He will probably visit Janesville in the line of his employment, as we have become a steam vessel center of sufficient importance to demand the attention of census officials.

—Died—at the city hospital on Saturday evening, August 10, at eleven o'clock, Mrs. W. H. Kelley, of Gaylord, Kansas. The remains were conveyed from the city yesterday morning at nine o'clock, and the funeral services were conducted at the home of her father, I. Phillips, of Albany, Wis., at three o'clock in the afternoon, by Rev. Martin, of the Baptist church in that city. The burial took place in the Albany cemetery. The remains were accompanied from the city by W. H. Kelley, husband of the deceased, and a sister, Mrs. Phillips. Mrs. Kelley came to this city from her home in Kansas, about a month ago to be treated for a complication of diseases at the city hospital, but her case was incurable, and on Saturday it was evident to all the attendants that the end was near. The bereaved husband and father and relatives at Albany have the heartfelt sympathy of all.

—Ex-Alderman James A. Fathers, who has been in the retail harness business at the corner of South Main and Court streets since January, 1881, is now engaged in taking an inventory of stock preparatory to selling the establishment, to E. D. and W. H. Hall, the transfer will probably be made within a day or two, Mr. Fathers desiring to engage in some business with more out door exercise. During the years Mr. Fathers has been engaged in the business he has succeeded in building up a large and lucrative business, having made and held hundreds of the best customers by his straight forward and honest dealings. The new firm which succeeds to the business will be known as E. D. Hall & Son, the junior member having been in Mr. Fathers' employ for the past seven years, and is a thorough and practical harness maker. The senior has but recently moved to the city from Stoughton. The Gazette, while it regrets to see Mr. Fathers retire from so prosperous a business, congratulates the new firm in advance, and trusts they will continue to maintain the good reputation and prosperous trade of the establishment.

TOPICS FOR MID-SUMMER

City Churches Were Well Attended in the Morning

AT THE UNION MEETING

Held in the First M. E. Church Last Evening, Rev. M. Evans Speaks.—Large Audience.

Rev. J. M. Tooley, of Watertown, preached at St. Patrick's church yesterday. Father Tooley is in the city in the interest of the College of the Sacred Heart, of that city. He is a very interesting and forcible speaker, and his remarks yesterday morning were listened to with close attention by the large audience.

At the Congregational church Prof. William B. Chamberlin, of Oberlin College, occupied the pulpit in the morning. He took for his text, Eph. 4:1—"I beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called." Beecher said, "The elect are those who will and the non-elect are those who won't." Some of the pilgrims had the idea that the world was exclusively for them. The fact that anybody is worthy should not make that person egotistical. We should accept, as God gives it, our place in the world. The greatest thoughts that men can ever think is to think God's thoughts, after him. I believe in christian union. There is a superficiality which confounds unity with mechanical uniformity. Technicalities should not make us enemies. In God's great thoughts our little apprehension of the truth we see does not constitute the whole truth. How do you know anything is true? Mostly by testimony. If you think Paul was a dandy, you are mistaken. There never was a greater manlier man in all history. There may be many mythical superlatives influences connected with the church, but this is not the general tendency by any means. Marriage is the type of the church's relation to Christ, and the relation that the father sustains to the child, is God's relation to us.

At the Court Street M. E. church Rev. G. H. Trevor took for his text Acts 9:3; "Lord what wilt thou have me to do?" The turning points of history are often identical with the pivotal moments in the lives of great men. The text brings one such moment before us. From it we deduce a few commonplace but practical thoughts. Saul of Tarsus spent no time in unavailing regrets. The only true repentance is that which promptly seeks to use nobly the present and the future. There is too much sentimental plaintive sighing over the past. Confession is good, but reformation is better. The Turk says: "After a fall falls twice into the same hole." Saul's natural energy speaks in the text, and asks employment. Not only to "quit his meanness," but to do some thing positive for the Lord who had spoken to him in the flash. No timid weakness was he.

Sitting by the poisoned springs of life,

Waiting for the morrow which shall free him from the strife.

He would do something to purify those springs and to heal those already poisoned by them. Away with what Bacon calls a "solitary and particular goodness." Positive activity in the cause of God is a test of one's love of righteousness. To do nothing may be sneaking treason.

Time to work as well as pray,

Clearing thorns wrongs away;

Plucking up the weeds of sin,

Letting heaven's warm sunshine in.

Emphasizing the words "thou" and "me" we get the thought that for each one there is a definite place and work in the Master's plan. Forgetting this our lives are too much chance work. We are very busy but about what? God's far sweeping plans or our petty aims? Many are like a blind man fumbling with a complicated mechanism, like a clock without hands, of no particular use whether they go or stop. Try to find the place that God wishes you to fill. Then take it. If you cannot be a general, perhaps you can be a private soldier, perhaps a drummer boy, perhaps a foot soldier in the hospital, in the armory or perhaps sent to the soldiers good things from home.

How shall we find our work? Do as Saul did. Ask the Master. Beware of deciding questions of duty without asking Him. Note two of the ways in which He led the fiery Saul (1) by putting opportunity into his hand. Saul began right where he was, Saul, do what he could. (2) By endowing him with peculiar abilities. Saul could do his best work for Christ along the line of his special aptitudes. Conversion did not whittle down all of Saul's peculiarities. God calls men to special work, and specially endows them for it. Saul could not be a John, the mystical apostle of love, but he could be the mighty evangelist and robust theologian. Could Saul have seen beforehand the panorama of coming earthly events, he might have quailed. The fruit of duty would have looked like apples of Sodom. But as he reached forth and plucked them one by one, they were transformed in his hands into golden apples of joy. And soon he stood upon the banks of the crystal river and plucked the luscious clusters of the tree of life. He had "fought a good fight, finished his course, kept the faith." Go thou and do likewise.

The union service was held at the First M. E. church last evening. The sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. M. Evans. His text was: "And I only am left, and they seek my life to take it away."

He said: In both branches of our service for God—devotional and benevolent—we will find difficulties, trials, persecutions and a lack of appreciation. This thought he illustrated by reference to Moses, Elijah, Daniel, John and Paul. Moses retired for a time, as did Elijah and Paul, but their work was not given up. Our work ought to be begun early and continued to the end, notwithstanding all discouragements. Discouragements manifest themselves in a sense of loneliness and self abnegation. "I only am left." Such sayings are the result of thoughtlessness rather than thoughtfulness. Like the ten spies they say: "And there we saw the giants; the sons of Anak, and we were in our sight as grasshoppers."
